Discussion of applicants for Light Commissioner

Both commissioners thought the applicants that joined us for our last meeting were very good. Mark Cousins said he re-watched the meeting taped on June 12th twice and thoroughly looked over their resumes. Cousins thought all three candidates met the requirements for the job. David Levesque has been on numerous town boards including the RMLP and has lived in Rowley for many years. He knows what is going on in town. Cousins said Sayad Moudachirou had a very impressive resume with a background in the portfolio and financial side of the business. He has very good knowledge of business side of the business. Cousins said Michael Viccaro also has the knowledge of how a utility works, but even more he has been in the utility for over 30 plus years. He has all sorts of knowledge in both efficiency programs and even has published articles on the utility itself. He has operational experience which is a big plus also. To Cousins, he seemed the best qualified.

Bryan DiPersia echoed what Cousins had said. DiPersia was very much impressed with all three candidates, but the one that stuck out for him was also Michael Viccaro. Viccaro has a wealth of knowledge and years of experience in the field both as a manager and building operations. He has made the utility field his priority. Sayad Moudachirou has the financial and marketing background, but Viccaro has more of a broad scope on the business. He said David Levesque has served on a few boards in town also.

In conclusion, both commissioners were in agreeance for Michael Viccaro as their choice to recommend to the board of selectman.

Mark Cousins made the motion to support Michael Viccaro at the joint meeting on July 2nd as the candidate for the empty commissioner's seat. Bryan DiPersia seconded the motion. Everyone voted in favor at 8:49 AM.
