

Landlord/Tenant Information

The tenant is responsible for the electric bill after paying the required deposit until we are notified by the tenant of their relocation.

Electricity will not be shut off between tenants, but will be transferred to the landlord's name after a tenant vacates the premises. The landlord is then responsible for the electric bill until such time when a new tenant moves in and pays the deposit required. It is incumbent upon the landlord to make sure any new tenant has transferred power to their name.

Rowley Municipal Lighting Plant will not become involved in any landlord/tenant issues.
